

Ashlar is a man-made building product that looks like stone, but performs like brick. Delivered in pre-cut, standard-size pieces, Ashlar is easy to move and install, generates little waste, and yields a cleaner, more productive job site. Any mason can install Ashlar – no cutting or chipping is required. Ashlar is made by Hanson Brick, the largest brick manufacturer in North America, so its quality and consistency are assured. Guaranteed to last, Ashlar is backed by our exclusive 101-year warranty and meets the ASTM C55 specifications for severe weather. Choose Ashlar for its beauty, value, and efficiency.
